To Whom it may Concern

Subject: Dror Dvir

Dror Dvir was employed by Elta Systems Ltd., between the years of 2002 and 2007, as a systems engineer in a project which was led by the undersigned. As part of this project a unique and advanced communications system was developed and manufactured. The project was managed in front of foreign and very demanding customer and in front of professional entities in the company and subcontractors outside the company.

As veteran and experienced engineer, Dror Dvir showed thorough knowledge in the matters that are unique to the project, with impressive devotion and responsibility, which contributed to the progress and success of the work.

Dror became integral member of the project's team, while showing excellent work relationships and handling a pleasant atmosphere both with the local subcontractors and mainly with the customer.

Dror ended his work in the project and the company as result of his moving to new residence, far from the company's site.

We wish Dror Svir success in everything.

Sincerely,

Yanush Feigentzweig
